WHY ONLINE CLASSES?

FLEXIBILITY to work and take classes
- Courses offered in two sessions:
  - Two-Week May Intersession
  - 8-week session

OUTSTANDING Faculty

CONVENIENT classes
- Only need access to internet – wired or wirelessly
- Real-time, interactive classes
May Intersession: May 11-22; exam May 26
- Securities Regulation (3 cr) (Marc Steinberg): Monday-Friday, 12:00 PM -4:00 PM EDT
Marc Steinberg
- Teaches at SMU
- Has taught overseas at leading universities in China, England, Germany, and Sweden
- Former senior associate dean for academics and has written over 25 books on Securities Regulation
HOW DOES IT WORK?

- Register during the normal registration

- Log into the course through the school’s website
  - The professor and students – from our and other schools – log in at the same time
  - Join live, interactive classes in Blackboard Collaborate. It’s like SKYPE, but better
  - All classes are recorded
  - Join classmates and your professor in discussion forums
  - Access course materials including syllabus, power point slides, and other reading materials

- A casebook will be used:

- The final exams are conducted online and will follow the school’s policy
HOW DO I CONNECT?

- During live class
  - Face-to-face communication via webcam and microphone
  - Streaming chat messages
- Discussion forums
- Email
- Live online office hours
- Online one-hour orientation prior to first day of class
- 24/7 IT support
- Questions? Email: support@summerlawonline.com