National Recruitment Opportunities

Employers nationwide, including numerous law firms cited among the “AM100’s” largest law firms, hire Maryland students and graduates through the CDO’s on-campus interviews, regional interview programs and national recruitment consortia for summer and permanent jobs, internships and judicial clerkships.

The following lists some of employers that participate in our recruitment programs and generate a multitude of job and intern opportunities, in addition to the hundreds of positions posted year-round in the CDO’s online Job Bank.

Class of 2006 National Employment

Graduates from the University of Maryland School of Law are successful in securing employment in law, business and industry, and in other professions. In 2006, 98% of the class reported employment and one third of the class chose jobs outside Maryland in major cities in New England, Midwest and Pacific Coast regions. The majority of all those employed found jobs in private practice/law firms and law departments (40%), followed by judicial clerkships (25%), government (15%), business and industry (10%), public interest organizations (5%), and academia (5%).

Most of our 2006 graduates found employment in the Middle and South Atlantic Regions, while other graduates chose employment in metropolitan locations throughout the New England, the Midwest and the Pacific Coast regions.
