Assistant Prof. William T. Brantly,
A. B. Mercer University 1871; A. M. 1874; LL. B. University of Md. 1874.

Method of Instruction.

Instruction will be given by lectures, reading and catechising. The lectures are intended to present all of the leading principles of the common law applicable to the subject, and the modification of the common law by statutes, and to give illustrations of the applications of the common and statute law. Special attention is given to the statutes in force in Maryland, and to peculiarities of law in that State, where there are such; but the reasons for these statutory modifications and local peculiarities are explained, so that the student may in a short time acquaint himself with the local peculiarities of the law in any State in which he may practice.

Readings from text-books will be assigned on the subjects treated of in the lectures.

The catechising at each lecture will be on the subjects discussed in the preceding lecture and on the assigned readings.

Library and Buildings.

The buildings of the several departments of the University of Maryland are all situated upon the corner of Lom- bard and Greene Sts., the Law School having removed to their new building there on the first of January, 1884. Connected with the lecture hall is a large and pleasant reading room and study for the use of students, containing a carefully selected library of text-books upon the subjects embraced in the course of study, volumes of Leading Cases, the United States and Maryland Reports, Digests, Statutes, &c. It is proposed to add to these the English Common Law and Equity Reports, and such other books as may from time to time seem desirable, and to keep the tables supplied with the prominent Law Reviews.
Classes and Duration of Course.

The students attending the School are divided into three classes—a Senior Class, an Intermediate Class, and a Junior Class. The subjects of study in each class are:

Junior Class.

First Term (Oct. to Feb.): Common Law (Elementary Law), Personal Property, and Domestic Relations.

Intermediate Class.

First Term (Oct. to Feb.): Pleading, Torts, Commercial Law and Shipping.
Second Term (Feb. to June): Real Property (Title), Criminal Law, Bills and Notes, Executors and Administrators, and Corporations.

Senior Class.

First Term (Oct. to Feb.): Practice, Evidence, International Law and Admiralty.
Second Term (Feb. to June): Equity Jurisprudence and Procedure, Constitutional and Statute Law.

The lectures are all after 4 P. M. A schedule of their arrangement will be furnished at the beginning of the session.

It will be seen that the full course of study extends over three years, and the Faculty are satisfied that students who have not made considerable progress in the study of law do themselves and the Law School an injury by entering the upper classes. Where students can afford it, they should spend three years in the study of law. But in order to meet the case of those who cannot afford this, students are permitted to enter and take the examinations of more than one class during the same term, their fitness to complete the course in less than three years being determined by their ability to pass the regular examinations at the close of each term, and to comply with the other requirements for graduation.

Examinations, Theses and Degrees.

The Law School confers the degree of Bachelor of Laws on students who have attended the course of lectures to all three classes, have attained the required standard at the examinations, have submitted to the Faculty satisfactory theses, and argued the required number of cases in the Moot Court.

There are six examinations each session—two of the Senior Class, two of the Intermediate Class and two of the Junior Class. Each class has an examination at the close of each term. The examinations are by printed questions, to be answered in writing. Each examination is valued at 100. In order to graduate, the student must attain a grade of at least three-fourths on the questions propounded by each professor at each examination.

The subjects for the theses for the next session will be given to the students in November, 1885, and they will be expected to hand them in to the Faculty by April 1, 1886. The attention of the students is called to the fact that the Faculty will require a high standard of excellence in the theses. The Faculty reserve to themselves the right to refuse a degree to any student writing an unsatisfactory thesis or neglecting the preparation and argument of the Moot Court cases, whatever grade he may have attained at the examinations.
Moot Court.

The Moot Court will meet once a week during the session, and will be presided over by one of the professors. At the beginning of the session a pamphlet will be placed in the hands of each of the students, containing statements of the cases to be argued before the Moot Court during the entire session of eight months; and students will be assigned to argue cases several months before the argument, when that is practicable.

Prizes.

The Faculty will, at the close of the Session 1885–6, award two prizes—

1. A prize of $100 to the student attaining the highest grade in the six examinations.

At the close of the session 1884–5 this prize was awarded to Fendall Marbury, Jr., of Prince George's Co., Md.

2. A prize of $100 to the student who submits the best thesis.

At the close of the session 1884–5 this prize was awarded to Jacob Rohrbach, of Frederick, Md., by a committee consisting of Messrs. Skipwith Wilmer, Isidor Rayner and Wm. T. Brantly, of the Baltimore Bar.

Calendar for Session 1885–6.

Session and Terms.

The next Session commences on the first Monday of October (Oct. 5), 1885, and closes on May 31, 1886. There will be a short vacation from December 24, 1885, to January 2, 1886, inclusive.
The session is divided into two terms. The first term extends from the beginning of the Session to January 31, 1886; and the second term from February 1, 1886, to May 31, 1886.

COMMENCEMENT.

The commencement will be held May 28, 1886, at 8 P. M.

Opportunities for Attending other Lectures.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Johns Hopkins University on page 18 of this catalogue. It will be seen that students at the Law School will be able to attend courses of lectures at the University on the following subjects: History of Politics, Advanced Political Economy, Elements of Political Economy, History of Political Economy, History of France and England, Mediaeval Church and State, and The Italian Renaissance and the German Reformation. The student may select one or more of these courses. The fees for attendance will be very moderate.

Privileges, Courts, &c.

Any Student entered in one or two classes has the privilege, if he sees fit, to be present at the lectures in the other class or classes; and any graduate of the School has the privilege of attending all the lectures for the session next ensuing his graduation.

There are seven Courts in almost continuous session in Baltimore during the entire scholastic year; and students have unusual opportunities to learn the law by attendance on the Courts. Students are advised to attend the Courts when they can conveniently do so, and to give careful attention and thought to the proceedings.

There is a Literary Society attached to the School, known as the Inglis Society, which is organized and conducted entirely by the students.

It has been the practice heretofore for students to form Quiz Clubs, composed of from five to ten members. They can, if properly conducted, be made very improving; and students are advised to form them.

Commencement.

The Annual Commencement for the session 1884–5 took place in Lehmann’s Hall at 8 P. M., May 28, 1885. There were two orations—one by L. T. Appold, of Baltimore, who was selected by the Faculty, and one by W. Beatty Harlan, of Churchville, Md., who was selected by the Class of 1885. Mr. S. Teackle Wallis, the Provost, delivered an address, awarded the prizes and conferred the degrees on the Graduating Class.

At the next commencement orations will be delivered by two members of the Class, one selected by the Faculty and one by the Class; degrees will be conferred on the graduates, and the prizes on those to whom they are awarded.

Fees and Expenses.

The fees for each term are payable strictly in advance at the commencement of each term.

The charges for instructions are as follows:

Students attending one class

- For Term of four months, - - - - $40
- For Session of eight months, - - - $80
Students attending more than one class

For Term of four months, - - - - $50
For Session of eight months, - - - $100

There will be a Library fee of four dollars per annum for each student, and an additional charge of ten dollars to each graduate as a diploma fee.

Special arrangements may be made by members of the bar or others for attending any particular part or branch of instruction, at rates of charge in proportion to the above.

Board can be had in the city at prices varying from $4 to $10 per week.

For further information, and for tickets of admission to the School, application may be made to

HENRY D. HARLAN,
Secretary of Law Faculty,

35 ST. PAUL STREET, BALTIMORE, MD.
Courses in History and Politics at the Johns Hopkins University.

The following courses will be open to law students for moderate fees, to be arranged according to the number of hours taken. All the courses here described are to be given from 10 A.M. to 2 P.M.

History of Politics.

This course, conducted by Dr. H. B. Adams, will be open to advanced students only. It will consist of lectures on the History of Contemporary European Politics, beginning with the present century, comparative studies in the History of European Institutions from an earlier date, and practical examinations upon select topics of general Political History. Three hours weekly, through the year. 10 A.M.

Advanced Political Economy.

This course consists of lectures by the instructor, twice weekly, for one year. It opens with a discussion of the fundamental principles of the science, and is followed by a careful treatment of practical economic problems. For example, such questions are discussed as the Tariff, Coöperation, Joint-Stock Associations and other forms of Partnership, Strikes, Immigration, Wages, etc. The chief aim is to promote thought and to give the right impulse to future work.

Comparative Studies in European Administration.

An advanced course of lectures by Dr. Ely on Methods of Administration in England, France, and Germany. Special subjects for consideration will be the organization of governments, their economic functions, sanitary legislation, poor laws, appointment and tenure of officers in the civil service. Once weekly, through the year. 12 M.

Elements of Political Economy.

A preliminary course of instruction with Dr. R. T. Ely, comprising lectures, essays, and frequent examinations upon assigned topics. The basis of class-work will be Laveleye’s “Elements of Political Economy,” and Cossa’s “Guide to the Study of Political Economy,” with select portions of the writings of John Stuart Mill and other economists. Five hours weekly, first half-year. 1 P.M.
History of Political Economy.

A more advanced course of lectures by Dr. Ely upon the history of various economic systems, including a consideration of some of the contemporary social problems in England and America. Five hours weekly, second half-year. 1 P.M.

History of France and England.

This is a course with Dr. J. F. Jameson for the parallel study of the mediaeval and modern history of these two countries. Authorities such as "The Student's France" and Green's "Short History of England" are used as hand-books by the class, while other reading is required in connection with assigned topics. Three hours weekly, through the year. 11 A.M.

Mediaeval Church and State.

This will be a course with Dr. H. B. Adams for the study of the relations of the Church to the Roman, Frankish, and German Empires. The course will comprise lectures upon ecclesiastical institutions, reports upon assigned themes, and examinations upon Bryce's "Holy Roman Empire," Lea's "Studies in Church History," portions of Milman's "Latin Christianity," and other authorities. Twice weekly, first half-year. 11 A.M.

The Italian Renaissance and the German Reformation.

This is a continuation of the preceding course, and is devoted to the study of the revival of learning, the history of the Italian Republics and their influence upon Europe, the relation of the German Reformation to Italian Humanism, the progress and results of the Reformation. Essays are to be written by the students in connection with this course, and frequent oral examinations are held. Twice weekly, second half-year. 11 A.M.

For terms and further particulars as to these courses, consult Dr. H. B. Adams, in the Historical Library, after October 1, between 9 and 10 o'clock A.M.
