Brief Summary of Pertinent Experience (max. 50 words):

I was the first person in the Washington area (second on the east coast) to develop and teach peer counseling and conflict resolution courses to high school and middle school students, beginning in the mid-1970s. I introduced and taught these programs in over a dozen Washington area schools, plus the American Red Cross and the Jewish Social Service Agency. I also have taught trainers to teach these courses.

Specific Areas of Expertise or Training Topics in Conflict Resolution Education:

Peer Mediation, Conflict Resolution, Peer Counseling, Peer Leadership, Group Discussion Facilitating for high school, middle school, and elementary school students, and training of adult leaders in each of these areas.
