LOCALISTS AND “LOCUSTS” IN HONG KONG: CREATING A YELLOW-RED PERIL DISCOURSE

Barry Sautman and YAN Hairong*

Table of Contents

I. INTRODUCTION: TIME OF THE LOCUST .............................. 2
II. ANTI-MAINLANDER PREJUDICE IN HONG KONG............ 12
III. CREATING A PECULIAR RACISM: COLONIAL MODERNITY AND RACISM IN SHANGHAI AND HONG KONG ................................................................. 20
IV. HONG KONG INFESTED BY MAINLAND VISITORS? .... 24
V. LICE! COCKROACHES! LOCUSTS!: INSECT LANGUAGE AND RACISM ................................................. 35
VI. THE ANTI-LOCUST CAMPAIGN AS ETHNIC VILIFICATION .................................................................. 50
VII. LOCALIST LEADERS AND THEIR FRIENDS ............... 66
VIII. CONCLUSION: PUNISHING THE VILIFIERS? .............. 86

* Barry Sautman is a political scientist and lawyer at Hong Kong University of Science & Technology. His main areas of research are China-Africa links, the Tibet Question and ethnic minority rights in China.

YAN Hairong is an anthropologist at Hong Kong Polytechnic University and author of New Masters, New Servants: Migration, Development, and Women Workers in China (Duke University Press, 2008). Her research interests include China-Africa links and the agrarian transformation in China. Her intellectual interests include labor, gender, rurality and rural-urban relations, socialism and post-socialism, etc.