March 29, 2008

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the Maryland Public Interest Law Project's 20th Annual Goods and Services Auction! Thank you for attending the Auction and for supporting MPILP's efforts to promote public interest law through experiential legal opportunities.

Tonight's proceeds will be used to fund $5,000 grants for University of Maryland law students who will be working full-time during the summer for non-profit and governmental organizations that provide legal services to underrepresented individuals and communities. By bidding generously, you will enable the Maryland Public Interest Law Project, Inc. (MPILP) to provide numerous grants to dedicated students who will increase access to justice for those who would otherwise go without representation.

This year, MPILP is honoring a great supporter of MPILP and students' public interest work, Professor Doug Colbert, and two students, Michelle Mendez and Sara Novak for their dedication to serving the greater Maryland community. MPILP salutes these honorees' tireless efforts to further the public interest.

Thank you again for joining us tonight to support and celebrate MPILP's work. We hope you enjoy what promises to be a wonderful evening.

Best Wishes,
Anne Deady & Mandy Wolfe

TONIGHT'S HONOREES

PROFESSOR DOUGLAS L. COLBERT

Professor Colbert began his career in The Legal Aid Society's Criminal Defense Division (CDD) where he worked for eleven years prior to entering into teaching. While in New York, Professor Colbert fought daily in the trenches. One of his most important accomplishments during his Legal Aid career was when he walked the picket line with his colleagues. The Association of Legal Aid Attorneys (ALAA) union strikes achieved confidential interview conditions, greater office space, and such basic equipment as desks, chairs and telephones. However the most important change involved "vertical representation", which meant that indigent clients now had the same attorney from the beginning of their case until its completion. Professor Colbert's colleagues came to his support on July 9, 1974 when the Manhattan CDD lawyers established an union tradition by boycotting a judge's courtroom in protest of the contempt finding against, and jailing of, then Staff Attorney Doug Colbert.

Professor Colbert first taught as a clinical professor at Hofstra University School of Law and then joined the faculty at our law school in 1994. While a professor here, he worked with students and former students to create, secure funding for and direct the Lawyers at Bail Project in 1998. Through this project, over 4,000 indigent defendants were represented at bail hearings. Now working with the Access to Justice Clinic, Professor Colbert works on a daily basis to keep the promise made by The Supreme Court in Gideon v. Wainwright in 1963. Through his love for teaching and unwavering passion, he teaches his students to heighten their own sense of professional responsibility and to speak out and speak up so that others can have access to justice.

For the past two years, Professor Colbert has served as faculty advisor for the Maryland Katrina and Indigent Defense Project and has twice traveled to Louisiana to train and supervise Maryland students on week-long volunteer trips. Under his service and leadership, this organization has flourished and provided the opportunity for over 150 Maryland Law students and alumni to volunteer over 5,000 hours of service in the Gulf Coast.

Please join us in honoring Professor Colbert for his inspirational support of MPILP and the public interest community at the Law School.

TONIGHT'S HONOREES

MICHELLE MENDEZ & SARAH NOVAK

Please also join us in honoring two current students for their remarkable service to both MPILP and the community over the past year.

Michelle Mendez, class of 2008, was recently awarded a two-year post graduate Equal Justice Fellowship to work at CASA of Maryland, Inc. Michelle was a summer MPILP Fellow for CASA this past summer. CASA's vision is for strong, economically and ethnically diverse communities in which all people—especially women, low-income people and workers—can participate and benefit fully, regardless of their immigration status. Michelle has volunteered many hours to enhance the public interest community at the University of Maryland School of Law and has been particularly involved in the Latino/a Law Students Association and the Maryland Public Interest Law Project. Michelle also organized training opportunities for other students to participate in pro bono opportunities with CASA. Michelle was selected for this award in large part due to her dedication to serving Maryland's needy communities as well as her intent to continue to encourage other Maryland law students to make a difference in underserved communities.

Sarah Novak, class of 2009, worked as a summer MPILP fellow for Project HEAL (Health, Education, Advocacy and Law). Project HEAL offers children and their families access to free legal help while receiving medical care at the Harriet Lane Clinic and the inpatient pediatric ward at the Johns Hopkins Children's Center. Project HEAL is a joint project of the Maryland Volunteer Lawyers Service (MVLS) and The Harriet Lane Clinic of the Johns Hopkins Children's Center. Sarah organized training sessions for law students with Project Heal managing attorneys to participate in training and participation in ongoing pro bono opportunities with Project HEAL and Kennedy Krieger. Sarah was selected for this award due to the successful pro bono partnership established in large part by Sarah's efforts. As of date, several law students volunteer on a weekly basis to assist in special education, family law matters and health benefits at Project HEAL and Kennedy Krieger.
