

University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law Health Law Certificate

Learning Outcomes:

The Health Law Certificate program provides specialized coursework and experiential learning opportunities for students interested in pursuing careers as health lawyers. A candidate who successfully completes the requirements for the Health Law Certificate will:

1. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the substantive and procedural law relevant to the practice of health law;
2. Successfully engage in legal analysis and reasoning in the health law context;
3. Conduct comprehensive research on matters of health law and produce a substantial written work based on that research;
4. Communicate effectively in oral and written work;
5. Demonstrate their ability to provide legal advice to health care clients through clinic or externship placements;
6. Apply appropriate ethical standards and exhibit professionalism in their practice-based learning experiences and other professional opportunities.