About the Maryland Public Interest Law Project

Founded in 1987, The Maryland Public Interest Law Project, Inc. (MPILP) is a student-run 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to increasing awareness of, possibilities for, and participation in public interest legal work. MPILP raises money to fund grants for Maryland law students working otherwise unpaid public interest internships in the legal services field. The grants go to students providing direct legal services to individuals and communities that cannot afford legal services. Last year, MPILP grantees dedicated approximately 10,000 hours to public interest legal work. Auction proceeds are used to fund MPILP's summer grants program.

We also hope you'll join us at the Goods and Services Auction for the opportunity to bid on exciting items, from local businesses, sports teams and more! For tickets and more information, visit our website: <https://www.law.umaryland.edu/students/life/orgs/mpilp/> .
